

OUR FOREIGN POLICY.

Anyone who reviews the acts of Grover Cleveland during the last two years, must reach the conclusion that the man at the head of the Government of the United States, is a traitor to the country. When he came into power March 4, '93, an American flag was flying over the Government House in the Hawaiian islands, and everything which a Republican administration had done up to that time, tended toward the annexation of the islands to the United States. Cleveland at once set aside the policy of his predecessors, sent a novice in diplomacy to represent, not the citizens of the United States, but merely to carry out the personal ideas of Grover Cleveland.

The American flag was at once hauled down, the American men-of-war ordered away from the Islands, and the newly born Republic was throttled by the hand of the President of the typical and leading republic of the earth. An American can only dwell on the sad history of these acts with shame and mortification, and view with disgust, the spectacle of an American President, acting in respects like a paid agent of England looking after British interests.

The Berlin treaty gave America a joint protectorate over the Samoan islands, with England and Germany, but Cleveland attempted to abandon the foothold America had gained, that Germany and England might cut the pie in halves, and but for the protest of an outraged public, and the assistance of Germany, the miserable surrender of our interests in that part of the Pacific would have been consummated.

In the war between Japan and China, Secretary Gresham surrendered two Japanese students under the protection of the American flag to the Chinese, where they were put to death with horrible and nameless tortures. The same vascillating policy governed our dealing with the Armenian affair. Whenever the power of the United States Government was needed, the administration has retreated, and wherever we were not wanted, and had no rights, the meddling policy of Cleveland developed itself.

The Democratic Congress sided with Carlisle in tariff legislation by the aid and advice of Cleveland and Gresham. Whenever Cleveland could break down American interests abroad, he has never hesitated.

He has humiliated our national pride, disgraced our flag, impoverished our people and placed our bond loans at the mercy of foreigners. Had a combination of our foreign enemies deliberately planned to ruin the United States by placing a hired agent of the interest in their White House, they could not have, with an expenditure of all the wealth of a million Rothschilds, succeeded more admirably than with Cleveland in the Presidential Chair.

He should be impeached for high treason for he has done more harm to the country in the last two years than Jeff Davis and Bouregard and Stonewall Jackson did in seven years of rebellion.

The Extended Session.

In order to complete the unfinished business it will be necessary to run a few days longer and there is money enough left in the Legislative fund unexpended to pay for about four days.

The most miserable dirty dog that has bobbed up of late is the fusillamous, hybrid cur, Samuel Meyer, of San Francisco, in whose bath room Gracie Benjamin, a girl of eighteen, committed suicide. He said he had only a slight acquaintance with the dead girl, and concluded that she came there and died by accident, as "Gracie was too good a girl to do anything to disgrace me." It transpired that Gracie was his lawful wife, he sneaked away from the inquest and kept under cover until it was over, instead of coming forward like a man and facing the facts.

But Meyers is all right in San Francisco. He will be holding up his head among his fellow men in a few weeks, and moving about in society just as good as anybody.

The bill providing for a State Surety Company to act as bondsmen for State and county officers ought to pass. Under the present system bondsmen never pay a cent, and at the same time they often dictate the policy of the officers on whose bonds they go. The proposed law would do away with all this, and the tax payers would be protected in case of default.

Judge Cheney will preside at the Schnieder-Bray recount on the 22'd.

The Weiland Saloon.

Whitney has assumed control of the Weiland saloon, which he proposes to run strictly up to the times. He will dispense the best liquors and cigars and fine old Government whiskey which slides down your throat like oil, tickling your palate meanwhile. Call and see "Handsome Whit." f11

Benton's Liniment.
